

Judicial Internships

The Supreme Court of Texas accepts applications for judicial internships for the fall school semester, the spring school semester, and the summer. Interns primarily conduct research and prepare memoranda to assist the Court in deciding whether to grant a petition for review. An intern's work is supervised by the justice's staff attorney and law clerks. Interns may also have the opportunity to make an oral presentation to the Court in conference.

Applicants must have completed at least one year of law school by the time the internship starts and have a strong academic record. All interns must be current law students and must commit to at least five consecutive weeks of work.

To apply, email a cover letter, résumé, unofficial law school transcript, and writing sample in separate PDF attachments to every chambers you wish to apply to, using the following email addresses: Blacklock.Apps@txcourts.gov; Lehrmann.Apps@txcourts.gov; Devine.Apps@txcourts.gov; Busby.Apps@txcourts.gov; Bland.Apps@txcourts.gov; Huddle.Apps@txcourts.gov; Young.Apps@txcourts.gov; Sullivan.Apps@txcourts.gov; and Hawkins.Apps@txcourts.gov.

The subject line of your email must include your name, "Internship Application," and the semester you are applying for.

1Ls should not apply until after they have received their first-semester grades.

There are no application deadlines. Each chambers considers applications according to its needs and on its own timeline. Most chambers do not host interns year-round. The Court does not respond to questions about the status of an application or whether internship slots are still available.
